Flaming Craft Plows Into Utah Hillside; No Survivors Listed

BRYCE CANYON, Utah, Oct. 24 (AP)—A United Airlines transport plane carrying 52 persons smashed against a sloping hillside here today, scattering the shattered bodies and wreckage over a wide area.

The four-engined craft, trailing smoke and flames for at least 10 miles before it crashed, virtually disintegrated. A strip of saccharin over 100 yards long and 50 yards wide was burned.

The four engines, scorched and twisted, were thrown 200 to 300 feet beyond the burned area.

The largest piece of the plane was a section of the tail, only 15 or 20 feet long. It was near the forward portion of the burned area.

All the bodies were mangled and burned. Most were unrecognizable.

The transport was en route from Los Angeles to New York City with only one stop—at Chicago—scheduled.

Shortly before the crash the pilot reported by radio that fire had broken out in the plane's baggage compartment. He said he was turning back and would land at the emergency landing field here, adjacent to Bryce Canyon National park in Southern Utah, about 275 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The craft barely cleared the precipitous wall of a branch of Bryce Canyon. Then it plowed into the sloping, sage-covered hillside, apparently exploded and burned.

The bodies were scattered throughout the burned area. Some—unexplained—were dropped in the canyon. They, too, were burned.

Ten miles to the east, at Tropic, a service station operator said he saw the plane burning as it flew over that community.

J. A. Simpson, of Puyallup, Wash., hunting deer in the area east of Tropic, said he saw a fire under the plane's left wing.

After the craft passed he said he saw some object fall from it, and a little farther along he saw something else drop. He said he had no idea what the objects might have been.

The plane carried 47 passengers—including two infants—and a crew of five.

The horribly mangled bodies of the victims were left lying on the sagebrush-covered hillside overnight, exactly as they were found by first persons to reach the crash scene.

Coroner Hans P. Ipsen said he would hold an inquest tomorrow morning before the bodies were removed.

Truman Asks Battle on Inflation

CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO OUTLINE PLAN FOR LEGISLATORS

President Urges Help For France and Italy Against Totalitarianism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman called tonight for "prompt and courageous action" to stop inflation at home and to protect France and Italy against "totalitarian pressures."

He stopped short, however, of saying at this time what measures other than voluntary he will ask of Congress in the special session he has called to meet Nov. 17.

Mr. Truman broadcast to the nation one day after issuing the proclamation which will bring the lawmakers back to Washington a month and a half ahead of their regular session in January.

"When it meets," he said of Congress, "I shall recommend a program for dealing with inflation, high prices, and the high cost of living. Adequate measures—enacted in time—are necessary to correct the present situation."

Turning to foreign relief needs, he declared the United States policy has been and is "to assist free men and free nations to recover from the devastation of war, to stand on their own feet, to help one another—and to contribute their full share to a stable and lasting peace."

"Timely and forthright action," he said, is needed to relieve "hunger and cold abroad."

Critical comments came from some Republicans both before and after the broadcast. Prior to Mr. Truman's talk, Rep. Hallock (R-Ind.), House majority leader, Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), chairman of the House banking committee, and Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee, asserted the President was "playing politics" by linking foreign aid along with the high cost of living in the call for a special session of the Congress.

Reds Deny Vishinsky Said Austin Made 'War Appeal'

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky renewed his attack on U. S. delegates Warren R. Austin and John Foster Dulles tonight and clashed with Turkey in a tumultuous session of the United Nations assembly's political committee.

For hours, after Vishinsky spoke, there was confusion and disagreement over whether he had accused Austin of making "an appeal for war." Later in the evening, a formal Russian statement was issued through the U. N. press division which quoted Vishinsky as not having used that specific language.

During his long speech against "warmongering," Vishinsky was quoted by the English language interpreter as saying that Austin had sounded an "appeal for war" yesterday when the U. S. delegate called on the assembly to reject Russia's resolution condemning "warmongering."

The quotation as given in the running interpretation was: "It (Austin's speech) is worse than negligence. It is an appeal for war."

But the Soviet delegation statement said Vishinsky said: "It is more than criminal carelessness. Such an attitude can only be qualified as instigation to (Continued on Page Five)

Committee to Inspect Hubley's Run Today

Hubley's Run on South Washington street will receive a thorough inspection by the sanitary committee of borough council at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The five councilmen forming the committee will be accompanied on the inspection by Borough Manager Don I. Sears and Borough Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele.

Sears said yesterday that the State Board of Health also has been requested to inspect the stream. No definite date has been set for the State inspection, but Sears believes the work will be done as part of the survey work now under way to clear up the Schuylkill river.

Police have been instructed to clamp down on violators of the "No Dumping" signs in an effort to halt the practice of dumping garbage into the creek. Sears went on to say:

Soviet Union Drops Novikov As Envoy to United States

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Soviet Russia announced today a switch in its ambassadors to the United States, a move which left diplomats both here and in Washington uncertain as to its possible significance.

The Moscow radio said Ambassador Nikolai Novikov, who took over the past year, succeeding Andrei Gromyko, had been relieved of his duties and would be replaced by Alexander S. Panfushkin, former ambassador to China.

Novikov, who became ambassador when Gromyko was named permanent Russian delegate to the United Nations, returned to Russia the past July. He is now in the Soviet Union. He was known as an advocate of Soviet-American friendship and co-operation because of some speeches he has made along that line.

On June 19, he told the Chicago council of American-Soviet friendship that the United States and Russia can live together peacefully despite differing economic systems.

"The Soviet Union holds the view that it is not only possible but desirable that there be co-operation between the two nations," he said.

This expression was similar to that reported voiced recently by Prime Minister Joseph Stalin to a visiting delegation of British left-wing parliament members.

Washington diplomats who had acquaintance with Panfushkin said he also was an agreeable individual.

Washington officials pointing out that it was too early to say whether the change had any political significance, said they had had no indication as yet of any change in Soviet policy.

A shift in Soviet diplomatic representatives very often is the herald, however, of a tougher or softer Soviet policy.

State department officials said they had been advised by the Soviet government that Novikov was ill and that his replacement was necessary. Panfushkin was proposed by the Soviet government for the post and was declared acceptable by the American Government.

PLEAS DELAYED IN WENTZEL CASE

Postponement to November Granted Prosecution for Preparing New Briefs

The hearing on the arguments of Gerald C. Wentzel, Kenilworth, for a new trial has been continued at the request of the district attorney's office until the November term of Argument court. Assistant District Attorney A. Benjamin Senica announced yesterday.

Senica said the hearing was continued for the second time to give the district attorney's office time to prepare a brief in answer to the additional reasons for a new trial filed recently by Wentzel's attorney, W. H. Rosenberry Jr.

The tall die-maker was convicted of second degree murder in the slaying of Miriam F. Green, Pottstown divorcee, following a week-long trial last Spring. Shortly after the trial, Wentzel was released under $25,000 bail pending a hearing for a re-trial.

The arrest and conviction of the defendant came after an intensive investigation by county and local authorities following the discovery of the attractive pinup half-nude body, the past Dec. 9. A blue silk scarf knotted tightly about her neck had caused death by strangulation.

The November term of court to which the argument has been continued, will open on Nov. 24.

Ban on Gunning Necessary, Pottstown Sportsmen Agree

Obviously disappointed, hunters of Pottstown agree that Gov. James H. Duff's ban on hunting throughout the State until the coming of considerable rainfall was necessary to save millions of acres of woods from the dangers of fire.

Many of them had spent the past few weeks stocking up on hunting equipment, readying themselves for the small game season, which was scheduled to open Nov. 1.

The waterfowl season already is open, but the ban goes into effect at 12:01 a. m. Monday and will continue until rainfall ends what the governor called "the highly inflammable condition of forests in the Commonwealth."

Harold Rosenberry, 343 Rosedale drive declared, "I think it makes sense to ban hunting until the woods are less dry."

Commenting on the prospects for quail, rabbits, pheasants, and other small wild life, Rosenberry said, "Every year I'm told that hunting won't be so good, but I haven't found any trouble yet."

"It's a very good idea," declared Oliver Wittenmyer of Sanatoga, commenting on Governor Duff's edict.

"I think it's a necessary step when you consider what the forest fires have destroyed in New England," was Tyson's opinion.

Proprietors of sporting goods shops said that business had been good in preparation for Nov. 1, and that the ban had had only a slight effect, so far. They feel that all licensed hunters will take advantage of the season as soon as enough rain falls to allow the forests to be opened.

$26,611 STARTS CHEST CAMPAIGN

50 Volunteer Workers Urged to Greater Efforts; Second Meeting Tuesday

With workers reporting a total collection of $26,611.50 in the first two days of the Community Chest drive, the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, yesterday characterized the campaign for $116,971 as the "battle of Pottstown."

Speaking before 52 persons at the first luncheon report meeting in the Y.M.C.A., the Rev. Lineker declared: "In this battle, dollars are bullets. The bullets are ideas. American ideas, of a way of life which we must perpetuate."

"You," he told the workers, "are the soldiers of our community, of our country."

Stressing that the organizations benefiting from the Community Chest funds will need more money to do their work, he urged everyone to give more this year than ever before.

"It costs a hospital more to give the same service in these times," he stated, "just as it costs more for a family to live."

The $26,611.50 total yesterday was (Continued on Page Five)

CLINIC FORMED BY HOSPITAL TO DETECT CANCER

Drs. Gallo, Stone to Head Center for Women; Some Free Service to Be Provided

A female cancer detection clinic has been formed at the Pottstown hospital, it was announced last night, with two physicians of the hospital staff heading the unit.

They are Dr. Eugene T. R. Stone, fellow in the American college of Surgeons and specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, and Dr. A. A. Gallo, member of the International college of Surgeons and specialist in surgery.

Other physicians will be identified with the clinic at a later date, according to A. C. Seawell, Pottstown hospital administrator.

Terming the new clinic one of the most important developments in the history of the institution, Seawell declared:

"Realizing the acute need for a cancer detection clinic in Pottstown, the medical staff of the hospital voted unanimously, with the approval of the board of trustees, to establish such a clinic. This is one of the most forward steps in preventive medicine that has been taken in Pottstown and should add immeasurably to the public health aspects of the community."

It was emphasized that the clinic is not for sick women already under treatment for cancer, but for the well, who wish a thorough examination to determine whether or not cancer symptoms are present.

Two types of patients will be received at first. First, will be those who have no family physician and are unable to pay, and second, will be those private patients referred to the clinic for examination by local doctors.

Women who have their own physicians will be referred back to those physicians for further study, and those unable to pay will be furnished a list of doctors from which they may select one who will be asked to conduct the necessary care.

Co-operating with the hospital physicians in the clinic will be Dr. Joseph Stasney, of Philadelphia, associate professor of pathology at the Jefferson Medical school, and Dr. Lawrence Rentschler, of Philadelphia, the radiologist for Memorial hospital of Philadelphia.

The Senior Women's auxiliary of the hospital, headed by Mrs. Harold Cadmus, will co-operate in sponsoring the project and, in addition (Continued on Page Five)

Glasgow Man Given 1 1/2 to 3 Years for Feed Mill Burglary

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Oct. 24 — For his part in a carefully-planned attempt to burglarize the Levenwood Feed Mill, Third and Hanover streets, Pottstown, the past June, Sterling Eagle, of Glasgow, was sentenced to serve from one and a half to three years in the county prison by Judge Harold G. Knight today.

Eagle pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and larceny and begged the court for leniency, maintaining that he had reformed and would not be involved in any legal difficulties in the future. He had a record of four previous arrests.

The defendant and two teen-aged sons were arrested by Pottstown Police who lay in wait in the feed mill after having been warned of a proposed robbery.

According to Mr. Pottoman Earl A. Rhoads, Pottstown, who testified against Eagle, police were notified by an employee of the feed mill that he had found various articles including scales, shovels, (Continued on Page Five)

Walt Disney Pins Red Label On Hollywood Labor Leader

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Walt Disney told Congressional investigators today that Hollywood labor leader Herbert K. Sorrell, whom he "believes" to be a Communist, had boasted of using the National Labor Relations Board "as it suited him."

The daddy of "Donald Duck" and "Mickey Mouse" movies testified at hearings on Communism in Hollywood by the House committee on un-American activities.

Disney sent a gasp through the audience when he included the League of Women Voters among Communist organizations.

Also during today's hearing, Oliver Carlson, who said he once was a Communist and now teaches in the University of California, testified that actress Karen Morley and two lawyers who are keeping an eye on the congressional inquiry taught in what he described as a Red school in Hollywood.

Carlson also testified that Communists had attempted to take control of the Los Angeles public schools and in a recent school board election there polled 24,343 votes for an unsuccessful Communist candidate.

Mrs. Lela Rogers, mother of actress Ginger Rogers, said Communist activities are increasing in Hollywood, that Reds have been able to "win" some executives, but "I think the Communist gets his best work in in the field of writing."

The lawyers Carlson mentioned are Benjamin Margolis and Charles J. Katz, two of a group representing 19 witnesses billed for next week. Katz was tossed out of the hearing Tuesday when he tried to cross-examine a witness.

Carlson said he had studied and written extensively on Communism and its propaganda methods.

He said Sorrell is on the board of directors of the Communist school and has been "in long and close association" with Reds.

Disney said he considered Sorrell one at the time of a strike which he said was Red-instigated and which resulted, he testified, in the Communists taking over his artists.

He didn't say, and wasn't asked, when the strike was pulled. But he said he still "believes" Sorrell is a Red.

Maine Losses Heavy; Officials Check Clues For Suspected Arson

BAR HARBOR, Me. Oct. 24 (P)—Like refugees of war, thousands of persons today flee this flame-wasted island colony of millionaire summer mansions to escape another night of terror of burning forests which took 18 lives in the nation and burned a loss upwards of $26,000,000 across New England.

Maine—with six communities wiped out in addition to this devastated section of Mount Desert island, vacation playground of the rich—was still under attack by four firefronts which were out of control.

Joseph A. P. Flynn, chief of the Maine insurance department's arson division, said he has "well-grounded suspicions that some of the fires have been set" and added that his inspectors "are questioning persons."

As the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Red Cross rushed aid by plane, all available local agencies and persons were rallying to help 3500 evacuees who streamed out of Bar Harbor and other island areas in swiftly-gathered boats like a small-scale Dunkerque.

Outbreaks of woodland blazes flared elsewhere in the nation in New York, New Jersey and Michigan and ranged up north of Maine into the Canadian province of New Brunswick. Closing of woods was ordered in parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Worn firefighters in the New England had spots fought through their fifth day chiefly on a drop in 40-mile an hour winds as their best aid.

The hottest areas of Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire took on combat zone appearance. National Guardsmen and Legionnaires joined in aiding families fleeing the blackened and smoke-hung streets of the sudden ghost towns.

Survivors told of huge flame-bursts that flashed down upon them without warning. Others said they saw a lightning shift in the wind spare one house as flames roared through houses around it.

An evacuation center at Ellsworth estimated 2500 refugees thronging there from Mt. Desert island. Winds held during the day and drove fresh threats and evacuation alarms to Jonesboro, Me.

Maine's death toll stood at 12 and its loss was officially estimated at $25,000,000. Three fire-caused deaths were listed in Massachusetts, three in Michigan and one in Connecticut.

Reds Seek South Korea, Ex-Soviet Student Says

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 24 (P)—A young Korean who said he was an officer in the peace preservation corps of Soviet-occupied North Korea until he became disillusioned and fled described to American correspondents today a detailed plan for capturing South Korea if American troops should withdraw.

Taft Announces Bid For GOP Nomination

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24 (P)—U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft today opened a cellophane-wrapped surprise package—an announcement that he was a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Most of his friends and a part of the public had suspected this for months.

The 56-year-old Cincinnati lawyer, son of the late President and Chief Justice William Howard Taft, was quickly assured the support of Ohio Republican leaders, and said he would leave to them most of the work of getting the nomination.

The Ohio Republican organization asked him to run the past July 31, but he deferred announcement of a decision until he had made "a check of public sentiment."

After Taft's candidacy was formally announced in Washington and Columbus he held a news conference here but firmly declined to talk about other Republican aspirants to the presidency.

In fact, he named no names and finally by acknowledging questions about Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, said that they too might want to be the party standard-bearers in 1948. Dewey was the 1944 candidate and Stassen announced his candidacy the past December.

Baruch Scoffs at War Talk; Stresses Other U. S. Problems

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (P)—Bernard M. Baruch said today he does not expect war between Russia and the United States, but he declared that this country must be ready for anything "forced upon us."

Although the shooting war is over we are in the midst of a cold war which is getting warmer," Baruch said as he told the Senate war investigating committee that it is time to get talking about the mistakes of the past two wars and face present problems.

The Senate group has been asking a number of World War II officials why a detailed industrial mobilization plan—which Baruch, financier and adviser to several Presidents, drew up in World War I and helped revise later—was not put into operation.

Baruch testified that failure to adopt and quickly apply mobilization controls in World War II "cost us unnecessarily thousands of lives, cost billions of dollars and months of time."

He also blamed the present upward surge in prices upon mistakes made in not applying full wartime control and removal of others too early.

When asked why the late President Roosevelt and others did not put his industrial mobilization scheme into full operation, Baruch said:

"I can't shed any light on that."

Baruch revealed, under questioning by Chairman Brewster (R-Me.), that Roosevelt planned to name him chairman of the War Production board in the late Summer of 1943 "but later changed his mind." Baruch agreed to supply the letter written to him by the President asking him to take the job held by Donald M. Nelson.

Baruch said President Roosevelt feared that war was imminent in 1937 and 1938 and sent him to Europe to investigate. He said his proposal for a "two-ocean navy" and "more armpower" caused a "tremendous reaction."

He was asked if the prepared mobilization plan was discarded by President Roosevelt after Pearl Harbor.

"No, not by the President," Baruch replied. He added that Roosevelt was "all-out" for full prosecution of the war, but he was told that "the people on the hill" (Congress) could not put price control over. They had to compromise.

Baruch said President Roosevelt feared that war was imminent in 1937 and 1938 and sent him to Europe to investigate. He said his proposal for a "two-ocean navy" and "more armpower" caused a "tremendous reaction."

He was asked if the prepared mobilization plan was discarded by President Roosevelt after Pearl Harbor.

"No, not by the President," Baruch replied. He added that Roosevelt was "all-out" for full prosecution of the war, but he was told that "the people on the hill" (Congress) could not put price control over. They had to compromise.

Let's Give Europe Up

To the Editor: I was indignant at the resolutions of other years. I was for preparedness before 1939. I have felt that the only solution to world problems has been intervention and help in European affairs.

I believe that our efforts of the past, our contributions to the improvement of European conditions, the protection of former Allies, the billions we have poured into them are gone forever and that we have gained nothing but envy and contempt.

I believe that the time has come for the United States to think of itself and this hemisphere. There is no hope for so-called democratic Europe.

Russia can and will overrun Europe in the next three or five years. She will gain nothing if she does and the rest of Europe will be ruined by her (which I hope it does), but she is smart enough to hold off until we have poured our billions into Europe, ruined our own economy and mortgaged our souls for a hundred years.

It is time for us to take care of ourselves and stop being the Santa Claus of the world.

Let Europe sink or swim. She can take care of herself. It is not our task. We have served our day trying to save her, and it is hopeless. Let us face the facts and act for America.

Grain for Whisky?

To the Editor: Why should we save our wheat to enable other countries to use their grain to make whisky? If I had my way, and a lot of others too, we'd have said, "If you want to have wars over there in Europe, etc., go ahead. Just don't be misguiding any of it our way and we will not interfere. But stay in your own yard, as we are ready to protect ourselves."

We can protect ourselves better if we are not spread all over the globe.

"THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF." Leviticus 19:18

YOU WILL NEVER PUT AWAY HATE AND ENVY FROM YOUR HEART SO LONG AS YOU:

Are handicapped with inborn sin and are of wilful disposition.
Do not realize that no good work, no sacrifice, not even the giving of your body to be burned is acceptable to God if your heart is withheld.

Are very careful of outward forms of worship but are most neglectful of the inner spirit of true religion.

Try to deceive God.
Go through the forms and motions of religious worship and practices and fail to be sincere.

Do not allow the Holy Spirit to have His way in your mind and heart.

Do not realize it is not possible to love God without loving both friend and foe and those who spitefully use you.

Are a lazy, selfish man, do not treat your fellowmen as being of infinite value.

Have lost all ambition and self-respect.

Forget that One is our Father and all we are brethren. He has made of one blood all nations of the earth.

Are guilty of the slackness of indifference and spiritual deadness of heart.

YOUR LIFE WILL GLOW WITH KINDNESS AND HELPFULNESS WHEN YOU:

Are wholely His for training and use according to His holy will.

Daily set yourself to the task of religiously renewing your purposes, motives, plans and practices in your religious life.

Surrender self and all that is yours in a perfect abandonment of love to His "will."

Make your own prayer — "Lord direct my heart into 'the love of God.'"

Search the scriptures — "God is a creative spirit in the past of days."

Daily let your Father lead you to bring the spirit of love into your waiting soul.

Daily bring the great heart of God in loving helpfulness to those who are in need.

Are willing to let the Holy Spirit lead you to love your neighbors as yourself.

Have a heart that is broken by His love.

Have a heart that throbs with longing to possess the very presence of Jesus.

Love your neighbor, whether you like him or not.

Daily in brotherly love serve your neighbor and glorify God, through Jesus Christ your Lord.

Russia's Gag Tactics
Create a Farce

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The dividing line between comedy and tragedy has become almost indistinguishable at Lake Success as the Russian delegates tie up the United Nations with their talk of trying to gag Americans.

Just as last year they threw in their proposal for disarmament to entangle the other nations in an impractical wrangle, so they now launch a campaign against what they call "warmongers" at the very moment that Moscow is trying to organize Europe for an economic war with the openly avowed purpose of ending the United States to crash.

Everyone in the United States who would keep this country very strong against the very sort of aggression which has wiped out national autonomy and individual liberty in Central Europe is a "warmonger" to the Russians.

It's an old totalitarian habit to accuse others of exactly what they are doing themselves, but this latest "Molotov cocktail" takes the cake for sheer farce.

Instead of sitting up until 4 a. m. writing replies to the Russian diatribes, I'm not sure the American delegates wouldn't do better just to line up the votes quietly — if any lining up can conceivably be necessary — and dispose of the issue without saying a word.

Andrei Vishinsky has displayed, on occasion, some wit which suggests the bare possibility of a sense of humor. I wonder if he goes home every night laughing at the grave countenances of those who spend so much time trying to fight their way out of the paper bags he fashions.

The Russians, of course, have a serious purpose. They know that there is a fringe of people in the democracies who really believe that turning the other cheek is a practical international policy, and that good intentions are sufficient armament for a nation.

They know there are certain people, too, who feel that chronic self-criticism is one way to display "liberalism." The Communists never want these people to run out of ammunition.

The main purpose, of course, is to distract the world's attention from the one real issue of the day, which is Communist aggression, and to prevent any constructive action looking toward settled world conditions.

Yes, it must be a great joke for the Russians to be able to keep the Americans up to 4 a. m. preparing answers to a lot of gibberish.

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24 — The Motion Picture Research Society, which has campaigned against divorced screen stars, is now asking for a California state law, obliging all citizens to file a record of their past marital crashes . . . Time out for cowboy hero Tim Holt, on crutches as the result of a kick from his new, $8000 palomino . . . I hear Republic has inked a deal with Mickey Walker, the retired middleweight champ, to film his life story . . . Wotzis about Marlene Dietrich, planning a divorce suit against her long-estranged spouse, Rudolph Sieber?

If you've wondered about a "dog's life" in Hollywood, be advised that Lassie's new term contract with MGM calls for a weekly wage of $2000! . . . The Marjorie Liszt, currently screen-testing for a role in the Wagner-Liszt film to be produced by Nat Finston, is actually a great granddaughter of Franz Liszt . . . Catherine McLeod, recently wed to a San Francisco, is asking Republic for a release from contract; she wants to live in the Bay City and work only occasionally in pictures . . . Brian Aherne is excited over geologists' reports of a huge coal deposit on his ranch near Ephraim, Utah.

Elizabeth Grouge, author of "Green Dolphin Street," is said to be critically ill in London . . . Liquor interests are making a concerted drive to break down the long-time studio ban against screen star endorsements of alcoholic drinks . . . Add Hollywood fashion notes: Filmville's best-dressed gals are ordering skirts made of squirrel skins from their favorite furriers.

The other day, I'm informed, one of Hollywood's biggest studios, now preparing a new vehicle for its most famous star, instructed writers to capitalize on the sensational Overall murder case by making many of the scenes in the film correspond with actual incidents of the trial. What a disgusting recommendation for a picture! If Hollywood's ingenuity has become so exhausted that it must draw material from one of the most thoroughly distasteful "sensations" of recent years, it's high time for the studios to start looking for fresh talent and new imaginations.

"Heaven Only Knows" is certainly anything but a mile-post in movie progress, but I'm ready to hail it as one of the outstanding events of the year if it brings Stuart Erwin back into the prominence he deserves. To date, I haven't talked with one Hollywoodite who, after seeing Erwin's performance in "Heaven Only Knows," has failed to wonder why the picture makers neglected a comic with such remarkable ability. His role is comparatively small but he makes it sparkle. I've never seen him turn in bad work in all the years he's been before the cameras.

$219.50 less than the $26.750 reported at the first report meeting last year. In announcing the total, however, Chairman William H. Curtiss declared:

"Many of our divisions have not reported as yet. I feel sure that if they had reported today, our total would have been well over $30,000."

Curtiss impressed upon the workers that they should seek help in the drive.

"Remember," he emphatically remarked, "you are not begging. The Community Chest is a vital part of the community life and every citizen is responsible for his share in this work."

"You should seek help from your neighbors in this drive."

The second report meeting of the Community Chest workers will be held Tuesday at noon in the YMCA, it was announced.

'Body' on Bridge Causes Excitement

"There's a man lying on the walk of the Keim street bridge" was the excited statement made at 7:30 o'clock last night to Lt. of Police Henry Benson at the Bethlehem Steel company's plant by a pedestrian.

Benson called police and Sgt. Daniel J. Linton investigated. It turned out the "man" was a dummy which Hallowe'en pranksters apparently had placed there to frighten users of the bridge. The pranksters, when the police approached, grabbed the dummy and ran to Kenilworth.

Hook of Coat Hanger Caught in Child's Throat

Attendees at the Pottstown hospital were startled to see little Jeanette Merkel, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merkel, 453 Beech street, carried into the dispensary with a coat hanger protruding from her mouth.

The youngster had jammed the hook of the hanger down her throat when her mother sent her older brother, Leroy, upstairs to get the hanger, shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Jeanette ran up the stairs ahead of her brother to get the wire hanger, and promptly jammed it into her mouth. Her mother immediately called the Good Will Fire company ambulance.

The little girl had the hanger removed at the hospital, where she was admitted and treated for possible infection, more frightened than harmed.

AIRLINER CRASH —

protect the remains from coyotes.

Woodard offered the only explanation to be hazarded by any of the two score or more officials who reached the scene before dark to conduct their various investigations.

"I believe the plane probably exploded before it struck the ground, and that accounts for the bodies being scattered so far in so many different directions," he said.

The body of one stewardess, unidentified like all the other bodies, was found in the bottom of the major portion of the wreckage. A small quantity of unburned mail and a few pieces of wreckage also were located in the wreckage.

Jack Guenther, managing editor of Look magazine, was aboard the plane. The 33-year-old executive was returning to New York City after three weeks on the West coast.

Another passenger was Clement D. Ryan, president of Whitney's Department store in San Diego and former president of Montgomery Ward.

Two attendants at the service station at Tropic, Weldon Le Fevre and Robert Middleton, drove quickly to the crash scene.

"When we got there and saw what it was," Le Fevre said, "it made us both kind of sick. It was a big plane, or it was until it hit the ground."

The fire was well under control then, he said, adding:

"The sight was terrible. There were pieces of airplane scattered all over the area, which was just on the rim of the canyon. Pieces of paper and other stuff was all over."

Bob and I saw five or six bodies—all naked—which, I guess, had been thrown out of the plane."

Only three commercial aviation crashes have taken a larger death toll. Fifty three persons were killed the past May 30 at Fort Deposit, Md., and the same number died in two crashes at Bogota, Colombia, on July 24, 1938, and Feb. 15, 1947.

In Chicago, UAL headquarters released a series of terse messages from the plane shortly before the crash.

"We have baggage fire aboard," the first said at 2:21 p. m. (Pottstown time).

"We are coming to Bryce Canyon. We have smoke filled plane. Unable to put out fire yet."

Five minutes later the plane messaged: "The tail fire is going out. We may get down and we may not. Best place we can —."

A brief period of silence followed, then: "May make it. Think we have a chance now. Approaching the strip."

But five minutes later, at 2:32 p. m., the Civil Aeronautics authority said, its Bryce Canyon station reported "a fire one mile east of Bryce."

Girl's Screams Frighten Would-Be Attacker Here

A man donned as tall and wearing a gray suit attempted to attack Nadine Frain, of 121 South Keim street, as she was walking home on Keim street about 7 o'clock last night, police reported.

The girl, who lives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reindauer, said she was passing the former Grant school at South and Keim streets when the man jumped out of some high weeds and attempted to grab her. When she screamed, the man fled.

Mrs. Reindauer reported the incident to police at borough hall at 9:30 p. m. The girl said she couldn't give a good description of the man.

joint congressional subcommittee investigating high prices, said:

"The President hit upon our two big problems. But he failed to state to policy that they are related. He dodged the fact that high grain prices now are the result of the foreign aid program."

But Senator Morse (R-Ore) said Mr. Truman made a "very able speech" and that "Congress should and will meet it on the plane of co-operation it calls for."

Mr. Truman gave this picture of emergency needs as he sees them:

France — $357,000,000 to carry her through until next March 31.

Italy — $142,000,000 to last through Dec. 31 and an additional $143,000,000 to run through March 31.

Occupied areas in Germany, Japan and Korea — "Serious difficulties" require additional funds in an amount he did not specify.

The president summed up: "The two problems I have been discussing with you tonight — high prices at home and hunger and cold abroad — present a challenge to the American people."

"We could choose the course of inaction. We could wait until depression caught up with us, until our living standards sank, and our people tramped the streets looking for jobs. Other Democratic nations would lose hope, and become easy victims of totalitarian aggression. That would be the course of defeatism and cowardice."

In saying that "inflation must be stopped before it is too late," Mr. Truman described high prices at home and emergency aid abroad as obstacles which must be overcome by prompt action.

The Chief Executive stressed that the special session in no way reduces "the necessity for pressing forward with our voluntary food saving program."

hostility and hatred, as instigation to war propaganda."

The official U. N. English language transcript of the meeting quoted Vishinsky as saying:

"This is more than criminal negligence. It is encouragement; it is an appeal for war; it is an appeal for man hatred."

The Soviet bloc's "warmonger" of the Soviet bloc, meanwhile, spread to two fronts in the assembly and found Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt speaking out against a Yugoslav resolution in the social committee.

But it was in the political committee that the debate became the most heated.

The Turkish delegate, Selim Sarper, who had answered Vishinsky's earlier blasts against his country, tangled with the Russian when Vishinsky charged that Turkey "marched" plans during World War II to help Germany in the Crimea.

Sarper countered with a charge the Germans in Moscow had prevented an accord between Turkey and Russia.

hoses, crowbar, hammers, horse collars and other items, collected and tied in bundles in the plant.

Because of this discovery, Rhoads and Patrolman Robert Scheidt were assigned to wait in the mill. Early the next morning, Eagle and his two sons drove up to the place.

They were apprehended after some of the articles were carried out to the vehicle.

Eagle admitted he and a son hid in the feed mill before it closed at noon Saturday, June 15. Then they bundled the articles. He had planned to return Saturday night for them but delayed until Sunday night, he said.

"I can't figure out why I did it," declared Eagle to Judge Knight.

"I'm glad it turned out the way it did. I'm glad they caught me. They should have shot me — to bring my kids into something like this."

Eagle testified he operates a 54-acre farm in addition to being employed at the Doeber-Jarvis Die Casting plant in Pottstown.

street pointed out, "if there's enough gun in the woods during a season. Naturally, it was a sensible move to postpone hunting while the woods are dry."

"There'll be enough problems for the forest wardens anyhow," Bewley believes, "because some people will go into the woods, law or no law."

Donald Levensgood, of York and Beech streets, joined with other area sportsmen who upheld the governor's no-hunting proclamation.

"Under the circumstances I think it's a very good idea," Levensgood concurred.

Duff's proclamation barred every one from entering Pennsylvania's 2,400,000 acres of forest land unless he has necessary business or State employment there, and also bans all fishing in the wooded areas.

Two women posted bail of $10 each at borough hall at midnight last night on a charge of creating a disturbance at the James hotel, 643 Lincoln avenue.

They are Mrs. Helen Brown, 19, of 557 Washington Hill road, and Mrs. Lillian Waters, 25, of 780 Lincoln avenue.

They were arrested by Special Officer Levi Burdian when they began to fight in the hotel.

CANCER CLINIC —

to lending social service and clerical aid to the center will provide financial assistance to deserving cases. The clinic's plan at present calls for free, part-pay, and full pay cases.

The idea of a preventive clinic was broached only this week, Seawell said, when the hospital received a letter from the State Department of Health, requesting the names of physicians that might be interested in taking certain advanced courses in cancer at the University of Pennsylvania.

The idea of a clinic grew from this suggestion, and the executive staff approved the plan the past Tuesday, with approval by the attending staff of the hospital and the board of directors following swiftly.

Drs. Stone and Gallo both have indicated their interest in attending the courses at the University of Pennsylvania, and have written to the Department of Health requesting further details.

In addition to the financial assistance furnished by the Senior Women's auxiliary, it was announced that the Montgomery County Cancer society, headed by Mrs. Henry Perot, of Villanova, has been contacted in regard to monetary aid.

The county cancer society is a branch of the American Cancer society which, Seawell said, long has been interested in establishing such clinics.

Discussing the trend in the U. S. toward preventive measure, Seawell declared:

"During the last decade there has been a very definite trend in the U. S. toward the establishment of such centers, to detect cancer in its early stages in persons who are apparently well and before symptoms of the disease have arisen."

"The facilities offered by such centers for complete physical examination of apparently well females will serve as a means of satisfying a long felt need both on the part of the people of Pottstown and the local doctors."

The five major causes of fires on farms are lightning, defective chimneys, sparks on roofs, stoves and furnaces, and gasoline and kerosene.

Mr. Gilbert went to work for what is now the Boyertown Auto Body works company, when it was the old J. S. Weinert Carriage works.

He worked for the organization for 30 years, teaching it change owners four times. He started as a carriage builder, but when the automotive age began Mr. Gilbert developed new skills and became an automobile mechanic.

The Boyertown resident was active in his work until his illness that began the past July.

His organizations include the Eschbach Council, Order of Independent Americans, Popodickon tribe, Independent Order of Red Men, Popodickon Council, Degree of Poochones, Gilbertville Chamber Order of the Knights of Friendship, Keystone Fire company of Boyertown, St. John's Lutheran church, Boyertown, and the adult Bible class of that church.

His wife, Katie L. (Bush) Gilbert, died in 1937.

Mr. Gilbert's survivors include five children, Irma B., wife of Frank Daugherty, Columbus, O.; Cora B., at home; Leah B., of Collingdale; Carl B., of Sayreville, N. J.; and David B., of Reading.

Mr. Gilbert also is survived by one brother, Howard, of Morrisville; one sister, Mrs. Mary Dellicker, of Boyertown; five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from a funeral home at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. D. F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery.

Inspector to Probe Riding Academy Fire
READING, Oct. 24 (P)—An investigation into the cause of a fire which destroyed the Shillington riding academy, today, with an estimated loss of $20,000 will be launched by Ronald Tyson, a State fire inspector, tomorrow, Luther Yocum, Mohnton fire chief, said tonight.

Meanwhile, a theory that the blaze was started by a lighted match or cigarette dropped inside the stable was advanced by Charles J. Kurczewski, Shillington fire chief, who helped to battle the fire. The stable was formerly a barn.

Kurczewski said that about twenty horses in the stable were removed safely, but one horse with a fractured leg was shot later in the afternoon. The horse apparently broke its leg in a mild stampede in the barnyard while being evicted to a nearby pasture and safety.

Records show that on the average day America has 750 home fires, 140 store fires, 30 factory fires, 6 church fires, 6 school fires and 3 hospital fires.

The Rev. D. F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, officiated. Burial was made in Union cemetery. Bearers were six members of the Lions club: Warren W. Johnson, Dr. Clarence H. Schanely, Howard B. Schanely, Elmer K. Berky, Fred D. Fisher and Rudolf Abrams.

3 Services, Banquet To End Anniversary Fele at Church Here

A banquet Monday night and three services tomorrow will mark the closing of a week-long anniversary celebration of the Rev. Haywood L. Butler's ninth anniversary as pastor of the Second Baptist Church.

The Rev. Butler was called to the church in 1938. In his nine years of service as pastor, the congregation has grown from a total of 73 to 354 persons, taxing the facilities of the present edifice.

During this period, the church has been reorganized completely and renovated throughout. A new metal ceiling, new floors, a new carpet, an oil heating system, and a water cooler have been installed. In addition, the pulpit and choir stands were reorganized, the lecture room was renovated, and a study and officer's room were added to the church.

The Rev. Butler worked side by side with his congregation throughout all the construction work. The work was done by the members of the church and no outside contractors were called in.

Six acres of land were purchased by the church for the development of a modern cemetery, while two acres were purchased, about one-half block from the present church, for the building of a new edifice.

Stained glass windows costing $1000 were installed in the present church several weeks ago.

The Rev. J. S. Scott, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, Phoenixville, accompanied by his choir and congregation, will be guest speaker at the service tomorrow afternoon.

He will be followed by the Rev. F. L. Patterson, pastor of

Jared, pastor Sunday school, 10 a. m.; Youth Fellowship, 7 p. m.; worship, 7:45 p. m.; sermon theme, "Overlooking Nothing."

3 Services, Banquet To End Anniversary Fele at Church Here

A banquet Monday night and three services tomorrow will mark the closing of a week-long anniversary celebration of the Rev. Haywood L. Butler's ninth anniversary as pastor of the Second Baptist Church.

The Rev. Butler was called to the church in 1938. In his nine years of service as pastor, the congregation has grown from a total of 73 to 354 persons, taxing the facilities of the present edifice.

During this period, the church has been reorganized completely and renovated throughout. A new metal ceiling, new floors, a new carpet, an oil heating system, and a water cooler have been installed. In addition, the pulpit and choir stands were reorganized, the lecture room was renovated, and a study and officer's room were added to the church.

The Rev. Butler worked side by side with his congregation throughout all the construction work. The work was done by the members of the church and no outside contractors were called in.

Six acres of land were purchased by the church for the development of a modern cemetery, while two acres were purchased, about one-half block from the present church, for the building of a new edifice.

Stained glass windows costing $1000 were installed in the present church several weeks ago.

The Rev. J. S. Scott, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, Phoenixville, accompanied by his choir and congregation, will be guest speaker at the service tomorrow afternoon.

He will be followed by the Rev. F. L. Patterson, pastor of

Inspector to Probe Riding Academy Fire

READING, Oct. 24 (AP)—An investigation into the cause of a fire which destroyed the Shillington riding academy, today, with an estimated loss of $20,000 will be launched by Ronald Tyson, a State fire inspector, tomorrow.

Monmouth, a theory that the blaze was started by a lighted match or cigarette dropped inside the stable, was advanced by Charles J. Kurczewski, Shillington fire chief, who helped to battle the fire. The stable was formerly a barn.

Kurczewski said that about twenty horses in the stable were removed safely, but one horse with a fractured leg was shot later in the afternoon. The horse apparently broke its leg in a mild stampede in the barnyard while being evicted to a nearby pasture and safety.

Records show that on the average day America has 760 home fires, 80 store fires, 30 factory fires, 6 church fires, 6 school fires and 3 hospital fires.

'Miss Hallowe'en Witch' of 1947

Witchcraft makes way for science as our "witch" discards her herbs and roots and uses modern ingredients for the contents of her cauldron, including calfskin skivers, beeswax and radio spaghetti. And to test its temperature, she uses a thermostat. The 1947 version of story books' Hallowe'en witch is lovely Ruth Ott, of Minneapolis.

Billion Dollar Deficit Predicted Annually

For Great Britain

LONDON Oct. 24 (P)—Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons today that the drain on Britain's gold and dollar resources by the end of 1948 would still be at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year even if she succeeded in achieving all of the program outlined by Economics Minister Stafford Cripps.

The current drain, he said, was averaging $70,000,000 a week ($3,640,000,000 a year), a rate which he described as "enormous" if continued. The outgo reached a peak of $237,000,000 a week (a rate of $12,344,000,000 a year) in mid-August, when Britain was forced to suspend the free convertibility of her sterling into dollars in trade with other than dollar countries, he added.

"If we succeed in achieving all that Sir Stafford Cripps has laid down, we shall still be facing at the beginning of 1949 a dollar deficit at the rate of one thousand million dollars, or twenty million pounds a year."

Sir Stafford yesterday announced that tobacco imports from the United States were being banned, food imports from the dollar area curtailed in such a manner as to reduce Britain's diet from an average of 2870 calories daily to 2700, and the housing program cut down in order to reduce the dollar outgo.

Strong West Chester Team Invades Pottstown Today

Trojans Seek SECOND VICTORY ON HOME FIELD

Coach Heeb Meyers
Changes Lineup for Alumni Homecoming Tilt

After failing to produce a victory on foreign gridirons, the Trojans of Pottstown High school came back home today to play host to West Chester High's Warriors in the annual Alumni Homecoming Day contest on Franklin Field. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock.

The Trojans have not tasted the sweetness of victory for three weeks, but Coach Heeb Meyers has been looking forward to this game, and the Pottstown High mentor announced last night that the team is physically and mentally fit to battle the Warriors.

The wearers of the Blue and White can show only one victory thus far this year and opponents have forced the Trojans to sip the bitter potion of defeat twice. The past time out, Meyers charged fought to a 7-7 tie with Phoenixville—a team that defeated West Chester, 6-0.

West Chester comes to Pottstown today with a veteran team that will be hoping to avenge the 32-7 defeat handed them the past season on the Warriors' battle-grounds. The Warriors, paced by Sam Riccardo and John Harris, have won three times this year while losing twice.

The Garnet and White has defeated Collingsdale, P. S. duPont and Downingtown. Phoenixville and Woodbury have defeated Coach Bill Hickman's charges.

The Warriors will not only be trying to avenge the 1946 setback but will also be trying for their first victory over the Trojans since the Fall of 1943 when they trimmed the Pottstown combine by a 25-0 score on Franklin Field in another Alumni Homecoming Day contest. Since then, the Trojans have won twice and one game ended in a 13-13 tie.

Meyers has been brushing up the Trojan offense for today and Pottstown backs will probably be told to throw more passes than they have been tossing in previous games. Scouting reports from the Chester county community reveal that the Warriors are not too strong on pass defense and Meyers may take advantage of this point today.

The Trojan mentor, trying to give Pottstown another winning team, has announced three changes in his starting lineup. Carl Harp, the big 200-pound senior guard who was a starter in the Upper Merion fray, has won his position back from Ken Saylor and is expected to start against the Warriors.

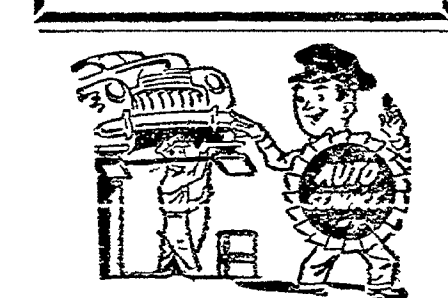

Meyers also announced that he may make other changes in the lineup before kickoff time, but he revealed that the remainder of the lineup will probably be the same as it was against Norristown.

The probable starting lineups:

Pottstown	Pos	West Chester
Bauer	LT	Herkins
Neuschwan	LE	Neuschwan
Harp	LG	Chamberlain
Wemich	C	Sloan
Calvado	RG	Lester
Saner	RT	Slope

Wildcats at Full Strength For Football Contest With Wyomissing Eleven Today

Coach Bill Paolantonio revealed last night that his North Coventry Wildcats will be at full strength for this afternoon's grid contest with Wyomissing High scheduled to get underway at 2:15 o'clock at Wyomissing.

The Wildcats are fresh from a 7-6 win over East Greenville and will be looking for victory No. 4 today. Paolantonio's charges have beaten Collegeville, Boyertown and the Greenies while losing a 27-6 decision to Marple-Newtown.

Most of the Norco players who suffered injuries in early season games have recovered and are once again ready for action. Tim Batdorf, who was injured in the first game of the season, has again found himself and is again leading the Wildcats. It was his pass that led to Norco's touchdown against East Greenville and it was his placement kick that gave the Wildcats a victory.

Wyomissing dropped a 21-6 decision the past week to Boyertown High's Bears and the Wildcats hold a 13-6 victory over Fleming's Boyertown eleven. The comparative scores point to a Norco victory, but the Wyomissing team is reported as a scrappy outfit and could cause the Wildcats some trouble.

Paolantonio announced last night that the starting lineup for today's game will consist of the same eleven boys who started against East Greenville the past week.

Boyerstown Battles Wilson High Foe In League Fray

Coach Bob Fleming's Boyertown Bears will travel to West Lawn this afternoon to battle Wilson High in a Berks Scholastic football conference game scheduled to start at 2:15 o'clock.

Fleming's charges sport a season's record of two wins and two defeats—both of the victories coming against league opponents. Their latest triumph was a 21-6 conquest of Wyomissing the past week.

With Billy Levegood back in the lineup, the Bears are rated as one of the toughest teams in the league with Muhlenberg and Shillington pushing for honors. Muhlenberg defeated Shillington the past week to move into a tie for first place with Boyertown.

For the Golden Cubs in all of their games, will celebrate his 17th birthday Tuesday and will then be out of the age limit for junior high athletics.

For the Cubs, it was their fourth victory of the year as compared to no defeats. Phoenixville, Coatesville and Downingtown fell under Kauler's charges before Rittenhouse hit the dust today.

Pirates Play Host To Marple-Newtown

Gabelsville Meets East Ends Tomorrow

The second half of the Greater Reading football conference gets underway tomorrow afternoon when the Gabelsville Owls play host to the East Ends at Gabelsville. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

The Owls finished the first half of the season with a record of three wins, one defeat and a 0-0 tie with the Franklin AC of Reading. At the moment, the VVV's lead the league and the Owls rest in a tie for second place with the Franklin AC.

Coach Howard I. J. Stauffer announced last night that the Gabelsville lineup will be the same as the one that started against the VVV's the past week with the exception of one position. Dutch Yergler will be the new starter and he will handle the team from the quarterback position.

Still handicapped by injuries, Spring City High's Pirates were reported in not too favorable condition for a hard contest slated for this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, when the Blue and White will face the strong Marple-Newtown eleven on the Spring City athletic field.

Although the Pirates disposed of visitors by a 28 to 0 margin the past year, the Marple-Newtown team has established a good record this season, having whipped North Coventry 26 to 0. A week ago they lost to Yeabon by a 6-0 count.

Down with injuries include Jim Rentschler, who has recovered from a spine injury, but will probably start today; Jack Ludwig, still laid up with a torn knee ligament from the Upper Merion game, and Jim Deil, with a chipped elbow from the Upper Merion encounter. Coupled with this, Earl Nelson Jr., a sub back, who was slated to help out in the backfield today, fractured a wrist in practice Tuesday.

A ray of hope centered in the belief that Carl DeWalt, halfback, may enter the game this afternoon, for the first time this season. He suffered a broken hand in pre-season practice at Downingtown. The cast was removed a week ago. Because of injured players, Coach Gene Groff was reluctant to name a starting lineup.

CHICAGO CARDS PUNTING STAR KILLED IN CRASH

Jeff Burkett One of 52 Persons Aboard Plane At Time of Crash

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (P)—Jefferson Davis Burkett, 26, Chicago Cardinals punting star, was aboard a United Airlines DC-6 plane which crashed today at Bryce Canyon, Utah, the airlines said. Burkett was one of 52 persons killed in the crash which threw bodies over the countryside.

Burkett underwent an appendectomy the past Saturday and was unable to return to Chicago with his professional football team Monday after its game the day before with the Los Angeles Rams.

Burkett, former three-sport athlete at Louisiana State university, prior to missing Sunday's game against Los Angeles, led the National football league in punting with an average of 47.4 yards on 11 kicks. It was his first professional season.

Coach Bernie Moore at Louisiana State had rated Burkett as the greatest collegiate punter he had ever seen.

Burkett was a first lieutenant in the Army infantry, serving three years. His home was at Laurel, Miss.

At Louisiana State, Burkett won three letters in football and track and one in baseball. He won the Southeastern conference high jump in 1942 with a leap of 6 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Burkett left the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, Los Angeles, this morning. His wife was waiting for him at the Chicago airport.

DICK THOMPSON SCORES TWICE TO PACE ATTACK

Knudsen Also Tallies For Blue and Grey in Overwhelming Victory

Led by halfback Dick Thompson, The Hill school grid machine rolled to its third victory of the season yesterday afternoon by handing Bryn Athyn an 18-6 defeat on the latter's field.

Thompson, who suffered a dislocated left shoulder just before the half ended, scored two touchdowns to give his Blue and Grey team a 12-0 lead at intermission. Jack Knudsen scored in the third period for The Hill.

The Hill opened a long sustained drive in the second period and Thompson climaxed the 81-yard march by breaking off tackle for 25 yards and a touchdown. Knudsen missed the conversion.

Later in the same period, Thompson scored again. This time The Hill halfback went over from the 1-yard line ending a 20-yard march that started when Dick Harter recovered a fumble on the Bryn Athyn 20-yard line. Knudsen again missed the extra point.

Shortly after the second half got underway, the visitors started another march toward the Bryn Athyn goal. The Hill drove 38 yards before Knudsen scored from the 1-yard line to give Coach Jack Riley's charges an 18-0 lead.

It was the first defeat of the season for Bryn Athyn as compared to three victories. Following The Hill victory, the records of the two schools became identical — three wins and one loss. The Blue and Grey had previously beaten Williamson Trade school and Haverford school and had dropped a 7-0 decision to the Princeton Frosh.

Brazil Officials Placed Under Guard At Moscow Embassy

LONDON, Oct. 24 (P)—Soviet Russia announced through the Moscow radio tonight that she had placed the Brazilian ambassador and his staff under a "protective" surveillance and said they would be held in Moscow until the safe departure of the Soviet embassy staff from Brazil had been assured.

Brazil severed relations with Russia on Tuesday because of Russia's failure to apologize for attacks in the Soviet press on Brazilian President Eurico Gaspar Dutra calling him a "hooligan" and "traitor."

The Moscow radio said Brazilian Ambassador Mario de Pimental Brandao and his staff had been taken "under surveillance" and would be held under guard—presumably within the embassy grounds although that was not specified—because the Soviet public was incensed at "hooligan acts" against Russian diplomats in Rio de Janeiro.

The broadcast declared the five-year-old son of Soviet Charge d'affaires Sokolov was injured in the stoning of an embassy automobile in Rio de Janeiro's streets in which "bad eggs" also were thrown.

Dispatches from Rio de Janeiro have made no mention of such an incident. A crowd attacked the Communist newspaper plant of the Communist newspaper Tribuna Popular on Tuesday night, however, wrecking the place. The paper said eight persons were injured in the mob attack.

Rio de Janeiro dispatches also have reported that some "school boys" ripped signs off the embassy building Tuesday night, but were driven away by police.

The Moscow radio made no mention of the diplomats of Chile, who also severed relations with Russia and Czechoslovakia late Tuesday. The Chilean undersecretary of foreign affairs, Enrique Bernstejn, said in Santiago tonight that the Soviet and Czechoslovak diplomats would not be allowed to leave Santiago until Chilean diplomats quit Moscow and Prague.

Owners of properties where there are defective chimneys are being notified by Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer to have them repaired or rebuilt. Yesterday, Lindauer sent notice to owners of two properties on Maple street.

Lindauer also said that chimneys should be cleaned of soot.

Referring to the burning of leaves in the open, Lindauer pointed out that a borough ordinance bans open fires in the borough limits. Leaves or rubbish must be burned in metal containers. The ordinance imposes penalties for violation of its provisions.

Congress Session Believed Trump Card In Ramadier's Hand for More U. S. Aid

PARIS, Oct. 24 (P)—A spokesman for Premier Paul Ramadier said tonight that President Truman's call to Congress for a special session Nov. 17 may strengthen the hand of the French government in its appeal for a vote of confidence from the national assembly next week.

The Socialist premier's policy of "playing the American card" has been under violent attack from the Communists ever since the Russians refused to participate in the Paris Marshall plan conference. Some Rightists, too, have expressed skepticism whether Ramadier could "produce the goods" in the shape of a Marshall plan.

The French premier, however, has based his economic policy more and more on receiving American financial help, and French opinion today interpreted the calling of a special session of Congress as a step toward that aid.

Franc-Tireur, an extreme left newspaper, said the summoning of Congress meant President Truman "has made his choice between Ramadier and de Gaulle." The paper said, "was seeking on the impossible for Congress to take a decision before next Spring, which would have let him pluck after a severe winter of hardships, the ripe fruit of American credits."

Franc-Tireur added that the President's decision did not necessarily mean Congress would accept his projects "but it is beyond all question that the psychological effect sought by Washington will be used by Ramadier."

The national assembly meets Tuesday and votes Thursday after two days of general debate on the government's economic and political policy.

Some observers believed that if Ramadier fell, President Vincent Auriol would call on the Communist Radical-Socialists, led by Edouard Herriot, to form a new government with Socialist and Popular Republican participation. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault is the best known member of the latter party.

French newspapers gave large headlines to President Truman's action, and a foreign ministry spokesman expressed "great appreciation and satisfaction" at the call for a special Congress session.

The spokesman noted press reports that some $350,000,000 would probably be requested for stopgap assistance to France until the Marshall plan is effective, and said

Fire Alarm Equipment Expected Next Month

Arrival of some of the equipment for the improved fire alarm system in the borough is expected in about a month. Yesterday J. M. Snyder, of Philadelphia, a representative of the Gamewell Fire Alarm company, New York, made a tour of inspection here in company with Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer. A conference was held later at borough hall with Borough Manager Dow I. Sears.

Twenty new fire alarm boxes, which have been ordered, will be used for replacements. Sears said that there probably will likely be no surplus available from the $45,000 appropriation due to the high cost of materials and labor. It had been hoped by the borough manager that some money would be available for the purchase of additional alarm boxes.

Alabama Governor Abolishes Flogging

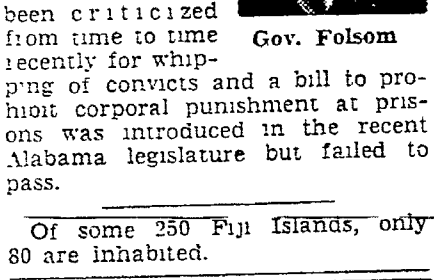

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 24 (P)—Gov. James E. Folsom today ordered flogging and all other forms of corporal punishment abolished in Alabama prisons.

The governor said his order would be "universal except in extreme cases" and would remain in effect until he receives a report from a legislative commission to study prison conditions.

The chief executive did not explain what would constitute "extreme" cases.

The prison administration has been criticized from time to time recently for whipping of convicts and a bill to prohibit corporal punishment at prisons was introduced in the recent Alabama legislature but failed to pass.

Of some 250 Fijian Islands, only 80 are inhabited.
